Let's Start!

We all need to take a break!

Learning Outcome

Explain customs and appropriate behavior at work and in different countries, using a wider range of expressions and formulas.

Can Do Statements

- I can agree.
- I can talk about clothing and styles.
- I can make suggestions and recommendations.

Ask your partner:

- When you're are stressed out, what do you do to relax?
- Why do you think some people like to spend money when they are stressed out?

Let's Explore!

Janet and Miranda go shopping to unwind.

* "To unwind" means to relax.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Miranda: I've been dying to get to the mall, Janet!
- Janet: Me too! I haven't gone shopping in a while.
- Miranda: Me neither. Shopping helps you take your mind off things. I need a pair of jeans.
- Janet: So do I. But I'm looking for a designer pair. This store has a sale on jeans. Why don't we try it?
- Miranda: Sure. Hmm ... I'd like something with a bootcut.
- Janet: So would I. You might be better off with a low waist.
- Miranda: I'm not sure. How about this stonewashed pair?
- Janet: They really suit you. I love them!
- Miranda: So do I. Have you thought about buying a dress for the wedding you're attending?
- Janet: Not really. I find A-line dresses flattering, but I was inspired by a classy red dress I saw at the show.
- Miranda: Oh, so was I! It's probably worth checking it out. I'm sorry I don't look good in red!
- Janet: Neither do I, but the style was just right. Maybe we should keep looking.
- Miranda: Absolutely. There's a nice boutique around the corner. I think we should consider paying it a visit.
- Janet: Is it pricey? I'm cautious about spending too much on a dress I won't be wearing often.
- Miranda: So am I. It might be worth checking. When's the wedding?
- Janet: In a month. There's no rush. How about going for drinks after we have a quick look? I need to unwind. I haven't had a cocktail in ages.
- Miranda: Good idea! I haven't either!

Let's Practice!

Janet and Miranda agree with each other.

Instructions: Match the sentences on column A to the responses on column B.

Learning Points

Responses with So and Neither

We use so for positive agreement and neither for negative agreement.

So is used to show agreement with positive statements.
Sometimes we also use too to express the same thing.

Example:

Amanda: I like this dress!

Janet: So do I/I do too.

Neither is used to show agreement with negative statements.
Sometimes we also use either to express the same thing.

Example:

Amanda: I don't think this fits well.

Janet: Neither do I. (neither is a negative word)
I don't either. (either is used with the negative)

When you use so and neither, the auxiliary needs to agree with the verb tense in the original statement.

A more colloquial form of agreement is "me too" or "me neither".

Statement	Positive Agreement
I need a pair of jeans.	So do I.
I was inspired by a classy red dress.	So am I.
I'd like something with a boot cut.	So would I!
I've been dying to get to the mall.	Me too!
Statement	Negative Agreement
I don't look good in red.	Neither do I.
I haven't gone shopping in a while.	Me neither!
I haven't had a cocktail in ages.	I haven't either.

Making Suggestions

You use modals could, should, might and phrases to make suggestions.

You use modals could, should, ought to, had better and might to make suggestions and recommendations.

You also use phrases like:

How about + gerund/noun

What about + gerund/noun

You might be better off with + noun

Why don't you/we + base form verb

Have you thought about + gerund/noun ...

It's probably worth + gerund ...

Using the phrases above make your suggestion less direct.

They are more common in a formal conversation.

Examples:

- Why don't we try it?
- You might be better off with a low waist.
- How about this stonewashed pair?
- Have you thought about buying a dress for the wedding you're attending?
- It's probably worth checking it out.
