

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

There's a crisis to deal with!

Learning Outcome

Explain customs and appropriate behavior at work and in different countries, using a wider range of expressions and formulas.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever experienced a crisis situation? What happened?
- Who did you turn to for help, and why?

Can Do Statements

- I can show understanding of another person's feelings or situation.
- I can talk about expectations in the past or present.
- I can talk about jobs and work.

Let's Explore!

Janet and Miranda discuss Farmani's reputation.

* Your "reputation" is the opinion that someone has of you based on your past behavior.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Miranda : Janet, is everything ok?
Janet : Not really. If the phone rings, could you take the call for me?
Miranda : Ok. One of those days, huh?
Janet : Yeah ... Miranda, the rumor's true. Farmani's factory employs children!
Miranda : Oh my ... I'm at a loss for words! Is Farmani aware of this?
Janet : I'm not in a position to say if he was fully aware, but he was supposed to look into it when he began outsourcing labor. I was going to check out his production plant but now it's too late.
Miranda : You couldn't have anticipated this. I know that we were supposed to do that, but we had a difficult deadline and research was going to come later.
Janet : Miranda, I'm afraid I'm finished.
Miranda : What? Janet, I can only imagine how you feel.
Janet : I don't know what to do. This whole project wasn't supposed to be so arduous.
Miranda : I know you feel terrible but we can approach Farmani.
Janet : It's more personal. I sponsor five children in that city. I know ... I'm not supposed to mix personal and professional life. But, I can't believe that I was going to profit from partnering with a company that used children I'm trying to help.
Miranda : Now I see why you're so upset. But Janet, you can help them! Maybe Farmani ...
Janet : Farmani only cares about his reputation.
Miranda : I believe it. And that's why I'm convinced that you're supposed to do the job. You have the incentive to make a change.

Let's Practice!

Miranda and Janet had expectations. What are they?

Instructions: Choose one option to correctly complete the sentence. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. He _____ look into that when he began outsourcing labor.
 - a. was supposed
 - b. was suppose to
 - c. was supposed to
2. We _____ do that.
 - a. were supposed to
 - b. was suppose
 - c. werre supposed
3. This whole project _____ be so arduous.
 - a. wasn't suppose to
 - b. wasn't supposed
 - c. wasn't supposed to
4. I'm not _____ personal and professional life.
 - a. supposed to mix
 - b. supposed mix
 - c. suppose to mix
5. I can't believe I _____ profit from partnering with a company that used children.
 - a. was going to
 - b. was go to
 - c. was going
6. You _____ do the job.
 - a. 're supposed to
 - b. 're suppose to
 - c. supposed to
7. I _____ out his production plant but I was late.
 - a. is going to check
 - b. was going to check
 - c. going to check

Let's Practice!

Miranda can show she understands how Janet feels.

Instructions: Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. You must be shocked.
2. You couldn't have anticipated this.
3. I can only imagine how you feel.
4. You have the incentive to make a change.
5. I see why you are so upset.
6. This whole project wasn't supposed to be so arduous.
7. I can't believe I was going to profit from partnering with this production plant.
8. If the phone rings, could you take the call for me?
9. I'm not in a position to say if he was fully aware of the consequences.
10. We can make an approach to Farmani to sponsor five children in that city.

Extension Activity

Respond to someone's feelings.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of 5 situations that would cause you to feel some emotion, either positive or negative.
- Write down your 5 ideas using 2 or 3 sentences to describe each situation.
- Read your first situation to your partner and let them react and show that they understand how you feel.
- Listen to your partner's situation and express that you understand how he or she feels.
- Take turns reading your situations until you have read all 5.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I show I understand how another person feels.

☐ ☐

I talk about expectations in the past and present.

☐ ☐

I write about emotional situations.

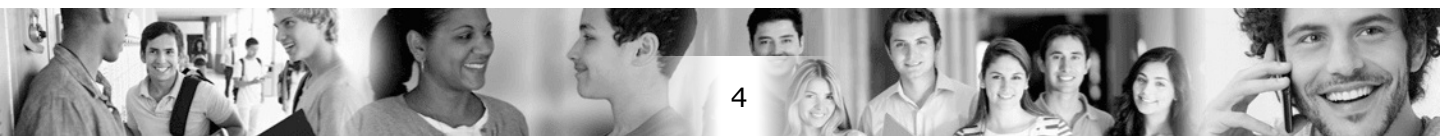

☐ ☐

I respond to a partner's emotional situations.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to take a call (expression): to answer the telephone
e.g. If the phone rings, could you take the call for me?
- to be in a position to (expression): to be able to do something e.g. I'm not in a position to say if he was fully aware.
- to be fully aware of (expression): to completely understand something e.g. I don't know if he was fully aware of the consequences.
- production plant (noun): factory
e.g. I was going to check out his production plant but I was late.
- to anticipate (verb): to imagine or expect that something will happen e.g. You couldn't have anticipated this.
- arduous (adjective): difficult
e.g. This whole project wasn't supposed to be so arduous.
- to approach (expression): to open a discussion about something e.g. We can approach Farmani.
- to sponsor (verb): to support a person, organization, or activity by giving money, encouragement, or other help e.g. I sponsor five children in that city.
- to profit from (verb): to earn money from something e.g. I can't believe I was going to profit from partnering with a company that used children I'm trying to help.
- to have the incentive to (expression): to be encouraged to do something e.g. You have the incentive to make change.

Learning Points

Showing Understanding for Another Person's Feelings

You use modal verbs must, can't, couldn't and other phrases to show you understand how someone is feeling.

To show you understand how someone feels now use:

You must feel/have/be ...

You can't feel/have/be ...

To show how someone felt earlier use:

You must have felt/had/been ...

You couldn't have felt/had/been ...

Other phrases you can use are:

I can only imagine how you feel/felt.

I know how you feel.

I believe it.

I know you feel/felt ...

I see that you are/feel ...

Examples:

- You must be shocked.
- You couldn't have anticipated this.
- I can only imagine how you feel.
- I know you feel terrible.
- I see why you are so upset.

Learning Points

Be Supposed To and Be Going To

You use the structure be supposed to and was/were going to when you want to talk about expectations, obligations or arrangements.

You can use be supposed to to talk about situations in the past, present or future.

The structure is:

Subject + to be + supposed to + verb

Present: He is supposed to look into that today.

Past: He was supposed to look into that yesterday.

Future: He is supposed to look into that tomorrow.

You use be going to in the past to talk about something that was expected but did not happen.

The structure is:

Subject + was/were going to + verb

Example:

I was going to check out his production plant but I was late.

NOTE : When you say be supposed to, you link the /d/ and /t/ sounds together, like this, be suppose_to

Examples:

- He was supposed to look into that when he began outsourcing labor.
- We were supposed to do that.
- This whole project wasn't supposed to be so arduous.
- I'm not supposed to mix personal and professional life.
- I can't believe I was going to profit from partnering with a company that used children.

